That this House declines to give the European Union (Withdrawal Agreement) Bill a Second Reading because 62 per cent of voters in Scotland supported remaining in the European Union in the 2016 European Union referendum and 74 per cent of the voters in Scotland supported political parties that proposed either remaining in the European Union or a second referendum on European Union membership in the 2019 General Election; and agrees that the United Kingdom must not leave the

That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the European Union (Withdrawal Agreement) Bill because the Withdrawal Agreement of October 2019 substantively concludes arrangements for Northern Ireland prior to agreement on the future relationship between the European Union and the United Kingdom and without adequate provision for applying the consent mechanisms in the Belfast Agreement as given effect by the Northern Ireland Act 1998.
